

WELCOME 2-26-2023

When was the last time you sat down and evaluated your testimony? Not the story of how the Lord saved you, but the daily testimony of your life. What does your life say about your faith, your knowledge of God and His Word, and your love for His people? In simple terms, what is your reputation? In (1 Timothy 3:2-3) Paul is not just giving a list of dos and don'ts, past sins or past successes—he's painting a vivid portrait of what a godly leader's life must look like at the character level. Believe it or not a leader's reputation is a vital element of his ministry. What he's known for in the community extends to the reputation of the rest of the church he serves, as well as the reputation of God's Word. Paul spells out God's standards for leaders, summed up by the phrase "above reproach."

That passage clearly shows that God is primarily concerned with a leader's moral character rather than his abilities. Nonetheless, He does include one crucial skill—the ability to teach. Why include this? Well just maybe what a man is cannot be divorced from what he says. Or what we do is as important as what we say. Even though this this passage is directed towards leaders, it can be applied to each of us who know Christ. How we "doing" folk?
